A friend of mine posted this on social media and I thought it really gives a different perspective to the way we sometimes view things.

A small country church was having a covered dish meal after their morning service. The preacher asked an older farmer, decked out in bib overalls, to say grace for the noon meal.

"Lord, I hate buttermilk", the farmer began. The preacher opened one eye to glance at the farmer and wondered where this was going.

The farmer loudly proclaimed, "Lord, I hate lard." Now the preacher was growing concerned.

Without missing a beat, the farmer continued, "And Lord, you know I don't much care for raw white flour". The preacher once again opened an eye to glance around the room and saw that he wasn't the only one try to determine where the old farmer was going.

Then the farmer added, "But Lord, when you mix them all together and bake them, I do love warm fresh biscuits. So Lord, when things come up that we don't like, when life gets hard, when we don't understand what you're saying to us, help us to just relax and wait until you are done mixing. The final mixture will probably be even better than biscuits. In Jesus name, Amen."

Within that simple prayer there is great wisdom for all when it comes to complicated situations like we are experiencing in the world today.

Be patient and keep the faith, because our LORD is always "mixing and baking" things that we might not understand or can see the end result. Just like warm fresh biscuits, we will be blessed with something even better than we could imagine or hope for when He is done "baking"!

Have a blessed week!
